

Submission on notified proposal for plan change

About preparing a submission on a proposed plan change

You must use the prescribed form

- Clause 6, Schedule 1 of the Resource Management Act 1991 (RMA) requires submissions to be on the prescribed form.
- The prescribed form is set out in Form 5, Schedule 1 of the Resource Management (Forms, Fees, and Procedure) Regulations 2003.
- This template is based on Form 5. While you do not have to use this template, your submission must be in accordance with Form 5.

Your submission and contact details will be made publicly available

- In accordance with clause 7 of Schedule 1 of the RMA, the Council will make a summary of your submission publicly available. The contact details you provide will also be made publicly available, because under clause 8A of Schedule 1 of the RMA any further submission supporting or opposing your submission must be forwarded to you by the submitter (as well as being sent to Council).
- Section 352 of the RMA allows you to choose your email to be your address for service. If you select this option, you can also request your postal address be withheld from being publicly available. To choose this option please tick the relevant boxes below.

Reasons why a submission may be struck out

Please note that your submission (or part of your submission) may be struck out if the authority is satisfied that at least one of the following applies to the submission (or part of the submission):

- it is frivolous or vexatious
- it discloses no reasonable or relevant case
- it would be an abuse of the hearing process to allow the submission (or the part) to be taken further
- it contains offensive language
- it is supported only by material that purports to be independent expert evidence, but has been prepared by a person who is not independent or who does not have sufficient specialised knowledge or skill to give expert advice on the matter.

Submission

My submission is: [include whether you support or oppose the specific provisions or wish to have them amended; and reasons for your views]

I support the changes as shown in their entirety. But wonder if they go far enough. For example the so called "garden area" seems that it it will still exists. Why? And in what form? It's very hard to find any information about the "garden area" On the web, perhaps it's buried way down in the depths of the council web site.

The public seems to have been stirred up with fears of 3 story and more houses popping up next door to them - clearly this is emotive as the present building rules will tend to minimise these. But why not say so?

This government has done very little that makes any sense. However to introduce the legislation that has forced councils to move and start to free up the building processes is the one thing in my opinion that they will be positively remembered for.

I live on a quarter acre and both sections either side of me have been subdivided - but I have not been able to Without doubt the country as a hole would still be mired in in its restrictive and expensive practices of getting anything done. We live and pray that the government would do the same sort of thing on council rates.

Finally I would like to say how disappointed the complexity of this exercise is. The detail of the plan and its changes are vast an well above any laypersons ability to understand. Just as making a submission is a challenge and of course risks being struck out for whatever reason.

If submissions are going against the plan changes, I ask that the council to modify the submission information and process and reopen submissions in order to better gauge opinion.

But - what grounds does the council have to modify the plan based on public submissions - is it already caste in stone, I wonder?
