Have a te Reo Māori moment in September

Kia Ora! Te Wiki o te Reo Māori – Māori Language Week (13-19 September) has been celebrated since 1975. This is the perfect time for all New Zealanders to use te reo and get involved.

The libraries' Māori and Heritage Librarians have created an amazing range of opportunities for you to experience and explore te Reo Māori during September. To help you on your journey, the library provides lots of useful resources which are highlighted on our website, catalogue, and collections. Knowledgeable librarians are on hand to assist you in finding what you need.

Māori Language Moment

You can also join us for the world-wide Māori Language Moment (12pm, 14 Sep), which will be celebrated at all our libraries. Te Rangaihi Reo Māori - Māori Language Movement: www.reomaori.co.nz

Simple ways to get started

You don't just have to wait till September each year, why not give these phrases a go and use them all year round?

Greeting each other:

Mōrena / Ata mārie – Good morning
Ngā mihi o te ahiahi – Good afternoon
Hei Konā – Bye!

Cheering each other on:

Koia kei a koe! You're awesome!
Kei runga noa atu koe! You're outstanding!
Kapai tō mahi (e hoa ma)- Good work (my friend)!

Remember to have fun and involve your whānau. Kia kaha te reo Māori - let's make the Māori language strong.

Take up the Challenge

Welcome to spring. September is a month for new beginnings, and is the perfect time for us to run our annual Reading Challenge for teens and adults. We challenge everyone to read something new and different.

Each review you write of a Challenge book will gain you a prize draw entry. Pick up a Reading Challenge pack from your library to get started.

Launching Libby

We are excited to be launching our new eLibrary platform for eBooks and Audiobooks this month, called Libby. This month's newsletter contains information about Libby; what it's all about, how to get started, and where to get help.

Insider tip- one of the tasks in the Reading Challenge is to read an eBook, and Libby is your perfect excuse to tick this one off.

October School Holidays are coming

Listen up kids! you are in for a 'magical' time in the next school holidays. While we may all have done a disappearing act during lockdown, the library's programmes team have used this time to plan for the school holidays. Stay tuned to our website and Facebook page for updates about the splendiferous line up of events in your local library.

A reminder that programmes and events will resume in Alert Level 1.

Our new eLibrary service
Download and get started today

Welcome Libby

Popular eBooks and digital audiobooks are now available free 24/7 using the award-winning Libby app on any device, offering an improved service and experience.

As people increasingly read and listen to books on their smartphone or tablet, they're discovering one of the best resources is their local public library. Kāpiti residents can access a wide selection of popular digital ebooks and audiobooks for free. With a library card, members can borrow from the digital collection by downloading Libby, from the Apple App Store or Google Play.

Chosen by locals for locals

Named one of Popular Mechanics' 20 Best Apps of the Decade, Libby seamlessly connects first-time users and experienced readers with our digital collection. This locally selected collection offers ebooks and audiobooks including bestsellers and new releases. Readers of all ages can select from virtually every subject ranging from mystery, romance, children's, business and more.

Get to know Libby

Once the app is downloaded, readers may browse our digital collection, instantly borrow titles and start reading or listening for free. Our eLibrary is compatible with all major computers and devices, and a range of eReaders. All loans will automatically expire at the end of the lending period and there are no late fees. Readers can also download titles onto Libby for offline use.

Need some help getting started? There are a number of self-help guides and videos to assist, which you can find on our website. You can ask library staff for help by sending your query in an email to library.events@kapiticoast.govt.nz and we'll get back to you.

Book Review

The Covid Chronicles; Lessons from New Zealand, by Paul Little Review by Eleanor Benesmann, Librarian

It follows the progress of the virus in our country in 2020 from the beginning, with many well-known names making comments day by day. This includes the likes of Grant Robertson, Siouxsie Wiles and Chris Farrelly, Auckland City Missioner. I found it fascinating to look back at how much we didn't know then, and how much more we know now.

Celebrating Kāpiti's Children

New Library Cards Launched

Congratulations to Jamie (age 5) and Arlo (age 9) who won our library card design competition earlier this year with their designs.

Their creative artworks have been turned into our new library cards by a local designer Hannah Faulke, and we are excited to launch these this month.

Thank you to all the other children who entered the competition.

Marti Friedlander: portraits of the artists

By Marti Friedlander

For fifty years, Marti Friedlander (1928-2016) was one of New Zealand's most important photographers, her work singled out for praise and recognition here and around the world. Friedlander's powerful pictures chronicled the country's social and cultural life from the 1960s into the twenty-first century.

Birdstories: a history of the birds of New Zealand

By Geoff Norman

A fascinating account of New Zealand's birds, which spans their discovery, their place in both Pakeha and Maori worlds, their survival and conservation, and the illustrations and art they have inspired.
