Please note: This is from a 2024 assessment of capacity: The current interment expiry dates have been estimated against current trends and the best available information at the time.

There are many variables impacting the calculation of this rate, and many assumptions are made based on historical trends such as the percentage of burials that live locally vs out of district, number of interments of each type etc. Population growth, and external factors such as capacity challenges across the wider region, can also significantly impact the remaining capacity by increasing demand.

Any fundamental changes in any of these variables, or a catastrophic event within the region, would considerably diminish the remaining capacity.
